

Press release

Geneva, May 7th 2013

New: English version of our website www.terredeshommessuisse.ch

The English version of the Terre des Hommes Suisse website is now online. Its objectives are to inform, encourage commitment and raise funds. It will allow us to communicate rapidly across borders.

Information : discover. The website provides information on the projects and populations supported by Terre des Hommes Suisse in 11 Southern countries. It also presents the work accomplished to raise awareness in Switzerland, the core thematic priorities of Terre des Hommes Suisse, our information campaigns, our ethical commitments, our team, etc. This lively and dynamic medium focuses on images as well as on audio and videos.

Fundraising : donate. Thanks to new, simplified and secured functionalities, the public is invited to make a donation or to become a regular sponsor. The support of our donors is what enables Terre des Homme Suisse to carry out its activities with underprivileged populations.

Commitment : get involved. Terre des Hommes Suisse is frequently looking for active volunteers and occasional helpers to organize different events. We also publish specific signing campaigns. Finally, social networks are not forgotten, we are present on Facebook in particular.
